Business Directory

2005

SHOPS & EATS

Home of over 400 organizations and businesses, including several of the City Paper's Best of Baltimore.

Diners can feast at an eclectic mix of ethnic restaurants and eateries.

A NEIGHBORHOOD HOME

Within walking distance of Penn Station, Baltimore Museum of Art, Johns Hopkins University Homewood Campus, Charles Theatre, and more. Old Goucher is located just a short drive from the Inner Harbor.

Affordable buildings and sufficient parking add to the quality of life.

Old Goucher has strong community groups and associations that help sustain economic and racial diversity.

A HISTORIC DISTRICT

The Lovely Lane United Methodist Church founded the Woman's College of Baltimore in 1885. The college was later renamed for its founder, Rev. John F. Goucher. Goucher College moved to the Towson campus in the mid-1940s.

Twenty-two buildings of the original Goucher College campus are standing today, and are among over 600 buildings that make up the Old Goucher College Historic District.

COMMUNITY FESTIVITIES

The Old Goucher Historic House Tour happens every spring, when beautiful two- and three-story row houses, dramatic churches, and a selection of Goucher College's original buildings are on display.

In May, come enjoy the Old Goucher Community Fair with food, children's activities and live music.

The Painted Ladies of Charles Village brighten up the streets and make for a wonderful walking tour.

Did you know?

Old Goucher has a business alliance for which membership is free. The Old Goucher Business Alliance works to promote better conditions for business and serves as an excellent networking tool.

Did you know?

The services that the Charles Village Community Benefits District provides are in addition to the numerous services provided by the City of Baltimore.

Residents can dial 311 to report street lights that have gone out, rats, graffiti, trash dumping, abandoned vehicles, and other city nuisances.

For the city's online reporting, visit www.baltimorecity.gov.

In Spring 2004, the Goucher College service-learning capstone course conducted an asset assessment of the Old Goucher neighborhood. This brochure introduces the neighborhood's institutional assets, and is part of a larger endeavor that brings Goucher College back to Old Goucher.

Goucher College now has a physical presence in the neighborhood, at 2526 North Charles, at the Old Goucher Neighborhood Collaborative. We are sharing space with Megaphone Project, Wide Angle Community Media, and Community Law in Action and developing media-based & advocacy projects.
